

Blessed Is the Man Whose House Is Full

Suggested Tune: Old Hundredth (All People That on Earth Do Dwell) Meter: LM (8.8.8.8)

Lord Redbeard 2023

Verse 1

Blessed is the man the Lord has crowned,
Whose tent is wide, whose hearth is sound;
Not lone he stands, nor thin his line,
But roots run deep through womb and time.

Verse 2

The barren boast the world calls free,
Yet sing of dust and vanity;
But he who trusts the living Word
Shall see his table long and stirred.

Verse 3

From Sarah's laugh to Leah's tears,
From Rachel's hope through patient years,
The Lord has built His people thus:
By fruitful wives, by covenant trust.

Verse 4

Not shame nor sin, nor lustful fire,
But ordered love and righteous desire;
Each woman set within her place,
Each son a strength, each daughter grace.

Verse 5

As arrows fill the warrior's hand,
So sons go forth at God's command;

No foe shall mock him in the gate Whose house stands full,
whose name is great.

Verse VI

O God of seed and promised land,
Who blesses man by woman's hand,
Restore again what You designed:
The fruitful home, the multiplied line.

Doxology (Optional Final Verse)

Praise Father, Son, and Spirit One,
Who gives us daughters, gives us sons;
Till all the earth His order sings,
And crowded homes proclaim their King.
