

I'll Stand - Even If I Stand Alone

Classic country + Southern gospel - ~68–74 BPM - Key G or A

By: Lord Redbeard 2022

Verse 1

I was raised by the Book and the Word
By the things that are seen and unheard
Faith was taught more by work than by talk
By the miles in a man's honest walk

Chorus

So I'll stand every day
Even if I stand alone,
With a Bible in my right hand
And a callus in my bones.
I won't walk this road alone
'Cause truth reigns in my home
I will bow my head to Him alone
For He's the only crown I've ever known

Verse 2

Now they tell me to soften my tone
Say "Belief's better kept on your own"
But a light isn't meant to stay hid
And a man ain't ashamed of what he did

Chorus

So I'll stand every day
Even if I stand alone,
With a Bible in my right hand
And a callus in my bones.
I won't walk this road alone
'Cause truth reigns in my home
I will bow my head to Him alone
For He's the only crown I've ever known

Bridge

I ain't standin' 'cause I'm better.
I ain't standin' 'cause I'm tough.
I'm standing 'cause there comes a time
When a man's had quite enough.
You can bend, you can blend, you can fade —
That's a choice I won't defend.
But don't call it faith or courage
When you kneel to stay a friend.

Final Chorus

So I'll stand every day
Even if I stand alone,
With a Bible in my right hand
And a callus in my bones.
I won't walk this road alone
'Cause truth reigns in my home
I will bow my head to Him alone
For He's the only crown I've ever known

Outro

I don't stand because it's easy
I stand because it's right
Truth reigns in my home
Every day, every night

Truth reigns in my home
Every day, every night

Prayer

Lord God,
Give me the strength to stand when standing costs me everything.
Root my home in Your truth, not the approval of men.
Teach my hands to work, my knees to bow, and my heart to obey.
Let me fear You alone, serve You faithfully,
and never trade conviction for comfort.
Amen.
